

JOURNALISTS ARE KEPT BUSY

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)
Governor George H. Carter delivered the great key of the City of Honolulu to the Southern California Editorial Association in the room at the Capitol building yesterday at 11 o'clock. The key was handed over to Edgar Johnson, secretary of the association, and he will open the way to all his fellow visitors from the garden belt of California.

The much-heralded and long-expected delegation of Southern California writers, men and women, arrived on the Oceanic Steamship Alameda early yesterday morning after a voyage of five days and sixteen hours from San Francisco, a voyage that was altogether pleasant, due in a large measure to the courteous treatment of Captain Dowdell, Purser Smith and all the officers of the Pacific ferry-boat.

The delegation was met outside the channel by the general committee of the Promotion Committee and Honolulu newspapers and its members covered with leis.

The first day of the visit here was one of successive and pleasurable surprises to the press men despite the endeavor of Jupiter Pluvius to upset all the well-laid plans. Old Sol won out finally and the morning and afternoon supplied the usual fine weather Honolulu always has in store for visitors. From early morning until late last night the day was a round of pleasure terminating in a grand reception and ball where native Hawaiian music thrilled the hearts of the Californians and quickened their already fond impressions of the city as they stepped the measures of the waltz and deus temps.

All in all, Honolulu may be congratulated upon receiving into its midst such a delegation of solid knights of the pen from the distant shore of California.

one another. Obedient to this proverb the two papers began pommeling each other until they ran each other out of existence. The backers simply couldn't stand the pressure and the atmosphere became altogether too heated, and so the day before arrival at Honolulu they quit.

Those papers were wonderful sheets. Much space was devoted to a mock trial in which one of the gentlemen was accused of having hypothesized some prunes. The trial was well conducted but the jury found a verdict against the judge and attorneys.

CONVEYED TO HOTELS.

On landing at the Oceanic wharf the guests were conducted to a special car of the Rapid Transit furnished by courtesy of Manager Ballentyne and were conveyed up Fort street, the guests for the Young Hotel dropping off at Hotel street and the remainder being taken around to the Hawaiian Hotel. Their wants were attended to and members of the committees remained at the two hotels to give information desired. At 10:30 all were gathered in the Hawaii Promotion rooms where Secretary H. P. Wood, an old-time San Diegoan and therefore quite at home among the Californians, was host. A cooling draught was served and the visitors enjoyed the view of the interesting exhibit in the rooms. They were particularly struck with Hitchcock's picture of the volcano. At 10:45 under the leadership of Chairman McCandless the guests went to the Capitol building.

RECEIVED BY GOVERNOR.

A view was taken of the old throne room and stories of its old-time associations were recounted by Honoluluans. The visitors were much interested in this relic of the past. Ascending the stairs they were conducted to the robin's egg blue room where Governor Carter awaited them. Introductions were made by Mr. Johnson and the Governor made happy remarks to all. When the introductions were over the Governor said, in part, that had the city of Honolulu a citadel he would be glad to hand over the actual key thereof to the Southern California Editorial Association, and in lieu thereof, he extended a most hearty welcome to the city and islands. Governor Carter then became reminiscent and told stories of various revolutions in which the Capitol building, formerly the royal palace, had figured. He said the building, like all public buildings on the mainland, had had its scandal. The foundations were found weak and new ones had to be put in.

As to the revolutions most of them had been bloodless. He said that bullet marks were to be found in the building where one party or another had fired into it from beyond the surrounding walls. He told an interesting story of the showing of a white flag on one occasion. This was a time when the man who stuck his head out of the door to raise the flag took his life in his hands. Finally one more courageous than another projected a white sheet through a doorway and the men outside promptly ceased firing.

Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson entered the room and was introduced all around and to him was delegated the pleasant task of conducting the party through the new Archives building.

ARCHIVES INSPECTED.

On the front steps of the Capitol building the Californians, including Governor Carter, Secretary Atkinson and members of the local committee, gathered and had their picture taken by an Advertiser photographer. The party then went across the lawn to the Archives building. Here they were greeted by Territorial Archivist R. C. Lydecker. In an adjoining room to the office the visitors found perhaps one of the most interesting displays of public documents they ever have or will behold. They were the original treaty documents of European and Oriental countries with the old monarchy of Hawaii, bearing the original signatures of the rulers of these countries. Among them was a treaty from England bearing the signature of Victoria and having attached the great seal of Great Britain, reposing in a silver casket. Another was from Sweden bearing the signature of Oscar, the seal enclosed in a silver box. Another was from Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, and many dated far back into the last century. There was an original letter signed by Vancouver the great explorer. The first printed laws of Hawaii were exposed. Altogether it was an interesting collection, Governor Carter explaining the documents one by one.

LUNCH AT THE MOANA.

A special electric car conveyed the party to the Moana Hotel where Mine Host Hertsche awaited them. In the drawing-room a reception committee of ladies more or less connected with the newspaper fraternity greeted the Californians. The ladies were Mrs. J. A. McCandless, Mrs. H. P. Wood, Mrs. C. G. Bockus, Mrs. W. R. Farrington, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Mrs. Frank L. Hoogs, Mrs. W. M. Langton, Mrs. A. P. Taylor, Mrs. Lorrin A. Thurston, Mrs. Fred L. Waldron, Miss Marie von Holt.

Luncheon was served in the main dining hall, the tables arranged in the form of a U. A trail of malle traced its fragrant course down the table center and bowls of flowers made a pretty picture. The lower end of the table was occupied by Mr. Johnson, flanked by Mr. McCandless and Secretary Wood. The menu was distinctly Hawaiian, with mallet baked in ti leaves, alligator pears, Wahila pineapples filled with cream and sherbet, papayas, and Kona coffee with Hawaiian lager making up a tasteful repast.

During the course of the lunch an address of welcome was made by Editor Farrington of the Bulletin, interspersed with witty remarks. He said it was the first time that an organization of this kind had ever come to the islands and he hoped for great things and hoped that others would follow. He gave the watchword of the Honolulu newspapers—"Love one another." Mr. Holt of the Evening Outlook of Santa Monica responded. He said the Southern California Editorial Association wished to extend its heartfelt thanks to the people of Honolulu for the magnificent spread then under discussion. From what they had already seen of Honolulu he felt sure that there were several newspapers in Southern California that would now be offered for sale.

THANKS HONOLULU PEOPLE.

"The people of Honolulu," he continued, "have certainly extended a welcome we could not have expected anywhere else. The Southern California Editorial Association was organized for the purpose of visiting various parts of Southern California and for taking annual outings. Everywhere they went it was to boost Southern California and induce people to locate there. In this instance the matter has been reversed and I think the people of Southern California will want to all come to Honolulu."

"Again, on behalf of the delegation, I wish to thank the people of Honolulu for their generous hospitality."

Rev. J. D. H. Browne also made some remarks apropos to the joyous occasion, and after some instructions relative to the itinerary had been made by Mr. Farrington, and an invitation extended by Hon. A. S. Cleghorn to visit his beautiful home "Alahau" had been accepted, the party arose. Others at the luncheon besides the association and committee were Bishop Restarick and Lorrin A. Thurston.

AT BEAUTIFUL "ALAHAU."

The walk through the grounds of Alahau to the residence of Mr. Cleghorn was a pleasant one. On the lawn before the famous home Mr. Cleghorn received his guests with the courtesy grace which has always been one of the pleasures and memories of Alahau. The guests were given the freedom of the home and they reveled in the art treasures in the lanai. The visitors were especially interested in the photographs and oil paintings of the Princess Kaiulani, daughter of Mr. Cleghorn and his wife, the late Princess Likelihi. For nearly an hour the home was invaded by the Californians, and after a peep into the old native grass house, the visitors were whisked away in automobiles to the Aquarium, about the city, through the most attractive residential portions, to the Honolulu Iron Works and thence back to their hotels.

The autos were those loaned by members of the Honolulu Automobile Club, an act of courtesy greatly appreciated not only by the visitors but by the Promotion Committee and the newspapers. Among the autos loaned and many propelled by their owners were those of Governor Carter, J. R. Galt, Gerrit Wilder, George Denison, S. M. Ballou, Mr. Steers, Spencer Bickerton, C. Hedemann, D. P. R. Isenberg, J. A. McCandless, R. H. Trent, George Cooke,

E. H. Paris, R. C. Stackable, L. G. Kellogg, Mr. Burrell.

The Aquarium excited the wonder of the guests, especially remarked being the varied and beautiful colors of the exhibits, many color combinations being almost unbelievable.

The Iron Works was also a source of interest for there they saw much machinery connected with the development of the sugar industry.

BALL AT THE HAWAIIAN.

The culmination of the day's program was at night, when the grounds and buildings of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel were ablaze with vari-colored lights in honor of the visitors from California. The great Hawaiian coat-of-arms over the entrance was truly magnificent. Beneath was a handsome "Welcome" design. During the dinner the Kail Hawaiian quartet club played Hawaiian airs, and the Californians, who were experiencing the sensation of dining almost out of doors, applauded each vocal effort. The Hawaiian songs were new to them.

At 8 o'clock the special press committee, and the committee of ladies who had received at the Moana Hotel at noon, were present and an informal greeting resulted. A large number of townfolk, including officers and ladies from the Manchuia, were in attendance. It was a gathering of the clans, so to speak, and was distinctly Honolulu. The reception or informal gathering was on the Waikiki lanai. At 9 o'clock the first two-step was played by the quartet, and from then on until long after midnight the floors were crowded with dancers. It was a warm night, following the deluge of rain during the day, but enjoyable throughout. The novelty of the Hawaiian music was an attraction in itself and encore followed encore after each dance.

CHANGE IN PROGRAM.

Owing to the fact that the steamer Sonoma is reported to be late in arriving here from the Colonies, possibly four to five days, the departure of the Californians will therefore be some days later than was anticipated. In view of the situation, General Passenger and Ticket Agent F. C. Smith of the O. R. & L. Co., has decided to make an all-day trip to Haleiwa on Monday, cutting out the Wahila trip to a later date. The trip to Haleiwa will be by special train and will be a fine outing.

TODAY'S ITINERARY.

The program for today contemplates a trip to the Palis this morning, the start to be made promptly at 9:30 a. m. from the Promotion Committee rooms. This afternoon the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company's special "Seeing Honolulu" excursion over all its lines will be made. A special car has been placed at the disposal of the Californians and the excursion will be personally conducted by Lorrin A. Thurston. The schedule is as follows:

Leave Port and Hotel streets, 1:35 p. m.; leave Maunaloa, 1:45 p. m.; leave Manoa Valley terminus, 2:15; leave Diamond Head terminus, 2:30; leave Diamond Head terminus, 2:45; leave Waiwai road terminus, 3:15; leave Kahaui terminus, 4; arrive Waiwai street terminus, 4:25; leave Waiwai street terminus, 4:30.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.

Tomorrow morning is left to the devices of the visitors to attend church, maybe. In the afternoon Manager Church of the Honolulu Seaside Hotel, Waikiki beach, will look after the visitors. He has given over the use of his canoes and surf-boats for their entertainment. The coconut grove of Oahu's ancient kings, the grass house and numerous other attractions are certain to awaken the interest of the party.

DANCE AT THE YOUNG.

On Monday evening, following the return from Haleiwa, a dance will be given at the Young Hotel by Manager Hertsche, in honor, especially, of the Southern California visitors. A general invitation is also extended to army and navy people in town and townfolk in general to be present.

WHERE THEY REGISTERED.

At the Young Hotel are the following members of the party: J. J. Penny and wife, Long Beach; Miss Leach, Los Angeles; Miss Powers, G. Ray Horton and wife, Los Angeles; Mrs. Harry Iles, Miss Zella Iles, Los Angeles; Grace Hortense Tower, Pasadena; News; C. F. Holland, Los Angeles; L. F. Doolittle and wife, Los Angeles; Isabelle Ware Morgan, San Diego;

Mrs. H. G. Tinsley, Pomona.

Those going to the Hawaiian were D. G. Holt and wife, Evening Outlook, Santa Monica; Paul Moore and Miss May Moore, Evening Facts, Redlands; R. Springer, (cartoonist) Examiner, Los Angeles; Edgar Johnson and wife, Tribune, Fullerton; Warren Wilson and daughters, Morning Journal, Los Angeles; I. S. Watson and wife, Evening Tribune, Long Beach; E. R. Amerige, Evening Blade, Santa Ana; Mrs. M. A. McHatten, Woman's Press Association, Los Angeles; J. L. Mathews and wife, Argus, Covina; E. F. Van Leuven and wife, Daily Index, San Bernardino; Miss Virginia Bowman, Evening News, Los Angeles; Miss Winifred Martin, Daily Sun, San Bernardino; Mrs. E. M. Bartlett, Woman's Press Association, Los Angeles; T. P. McDivitt and mother, Miner, Randsburg; D. J. Bastanchury, Tribune, Fullerton; Frank M. Jenifer, Oceanic Steamship Co., Los Angeles agent.

The following went to the home of friends: Rev. John D. H. Brown, Southern California Churchman, to Bishop Restarick.

Miss Nellie Hagadorn, Times, Los Angeles.

J. F. Davis, wife and son, Santa Fe Railway Company.

C. E. Ruddock, wife and daughter, News, Fullerton.

CALIFORNIAN NOTES.

The Californians were invited to go to Waikiki last evening to see a political convention a la Hawaiian. The Tattler and Harpoon were the titles of the two newspapers published aboard. Each called its contemporary an "alleged sheet."

Bishop Restarick and Mrs. Restarick were among those who aided largely in the reception of the visitors, for being former Southern Californians, they were known to almost all.

Some of the Californians were up early enough to see the stranded Manchuia on the reef at Waimanalo. Some weren't. Many wanted to know if they couldn't also take a peep at the Sheridan.

It would be useless to quote individual members of the California party about their impressions of Honolulu. One and all said, and it was a composite saying: "Isn't it all so fascinating?"

The souvenir passes issued by Manager Ballentyne to each of the visiting Californians are something to be proud of. Each bears the Hawaiian coat-of-arms in raised work. The passes are to be retained by the visitors and taken home with them. Manager Ballentyne was naturally a very-much thanked man.

Rain was looked upon by the visitors as a blessing. They only hoped they would see lots of it every day. They were interested in the stories of liquid sunshine and tried to ascertain by actual observation whether one could move from one corner across a street and get out of a rain storm. Some found it true.

Mr. Springer, cartoonist of the Los Angeles Examiner, is a real cartoonist, as his sketches of people aboard attest. Purser Smith and the doctor of the Alameda are proud of their likenesses. Springer gets the right touch to the features and that's saying some. The Advertiser will get some of his sketches, perhaps impressionistic pictures of what he has seen in Honolulu, for reproduction.

JONES UNMOVED AT SENTENCE

REDWOOD CITY, August 25.—The trial of C. W. G. Jones, the kanaka, for the murder of Elizabeth Brandrup at the Linden House at South San Francisco on June 22d has ended in the conviction of Jones. The trial began on Tuesday and today, after the arguments of counsel were submitted, the jury stayed out for six hours and agreed on a verdict of murder in the first degree and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

Jones was apparently the least unconcerned man in the courtroom and listened to the words that condemned him to life imprisonment without a tremor.

Dr. Brinkerhoff has received a letter from John W. Gannon, 421 West Fifty-third street, New York, inquiring about the writer's brother, Michael H. Gannon, last heard from as luna on a Hawaiian plantation in 1884.

KOREANS SATISFIED

"The Koreans in the Hawaiian Islands are well satisfied with their treatment on the plantations," said Dr. George Heber Jones, the eminent Methodist missionary to Korea, who is now visiting in Honolulu and is in charge of the Korean religious work in the islands.

Dr. Jones returned from a trip to Maui where he met with most of the Koreans. He states that they all had pleasant things to say of the head of most of the plantations there, Hon. H. P. Baldwin, and expressed themselves contented with their lot. Dr. Jones states also that this expression towards managers is not confined to Maui alone, but on Kauai and elsewhere he has found the same spirit prevailing.

"Mr. Baldwin also said that the Koreans took better to the work on a plantation than almost any other types of raw labor," said Dr. Jones.

SAUNDERS MAKES OFFICIAL REPORT

Captain James M. Saunders, of the steamer Manchuria, has sent to the San Francisco United States Inspectors of Hulls and BOLLERS, the following account of the grounding of his vessel off Oahu Island, near Honolulu on August 20th:

"At 3:45 a. m., August 20th, sighted land three points off the starboard bow which I took to be Makapuu Point. At that time a rain squall was crossing the bow. At 4:02 a. m., this point was abeam and about five miles distant. I changed the course to S. 4 E. with a view to picking up Diamond Head Light as quickly as possible before clearing Koko Head. Although at this time it was thick and squally, I could see the land on the starboard side, which I took to be Makapuu Point.

"At 4:07 a. m., while standing at the starboard side of the bridge, the second officer reported land on the port bow. I immediately put the helm to starboard, and reversed the engines in full speed astern.

"At 4:10 the ship took ground. I immediately had the wells sounded and found the ship tight. I got all the boats ready for launching, at the same time taking soundings around the ship, finding 5 1/2 fathoms at the stern; 4 1/2 amidships, and 3 1/2 forward.

"At 5:30 I sent a boat on shore to notify the agents at Honolulu by telephone and requested them to send assistance.

"All this time the carpenters were sounding bilges and found that the ship was taking no water.

"Bearings taken after the ship struck showed Manana Island N. 73 E. Magnetic, and Makapuu S. 62 E. Magnetic."

FELL 130 FEET

(By Wireless Telegraph.)
KOHALA, September 7.—A Japanese named Hirata fell 130 feet into a pool of water at Waialoa stream, between the extension of Kohala ditch, and was uninjured.

The schooner Defender cleared for Honolulu from the Coast on August 28. She brings a cargo valued at $7300, which includes 9350 gallons of distillate and a large quantity of grain and feed stuff.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

"A woman buys a sewing machine for what it will do; not as an article of furniture. A man carries a watch to tell him the time; not as an investment of surplus capital. The same principle when one is ill. We want the medicine or the treatment which will relieve and cure. The friend in need must be a friend indeed, something, or somebody, with a reputation. There should be no guesswork in treating disease. People have the right to know what a medicine is, and what it will do, before they take it. It must have behind it an open record of benefit to others for the same diseases, a series of cures that proves its merit and inspires confidence. It is because it has such a record that WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is bought and used without hesitation or doubt. Its Good Name is the solid basis for the faith the people have in it; and a good name has to be earned by good deeds. It does what you have a right to expect it to do. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In Scrofula, Anemia, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza and Wasting Complaints, it is to be thoroughly relied upon. Doctor J. L. Carrick says: 'I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and depraved nutrition; it stimulates the appetite and the digestion, promotes assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine.' Every dose effective. 'You cannot be disappointed in it.' Sold by chemists throughout the world.
